

Contract Manufacturing in McBride

What we offer

Our extensive manufacturing operations across Europe give our contract customers a potent development and production resource. After all, we're experts in the management of complexity.

Brand owners, whether large corporates or small agencies, can depend on McBride to provide quality and reliability. With our flexible approach, they can choose the precise level of support they need. This can mean solely manufacturing or the entire process from concept and packaging to delivery. Our development teams are available to support customers from their original ideas right through to the retailers' shelves.

Typically, brand owners in household and personal care turn to us when:

- They need our production, formulation, technical and logistics expertise
- They have a short to medium term capacity issue
- They need a second manufacturer to spread the risk
- They are a pure marketing organisation with no manufacturing capability themselves
- They are looking for long term partnerships

Customers particularly appreciate our:

- Expertise in packaging
- Innovation
- 'Can-do' attitude
- Financial strength
- Leading technology
- Speed to market
- Pan-European reach
- Quality, safety and environmental standards
- Adherence to European legislation and best practice
- Discretion and confidentiality

Accreditations and Industry representation

We meet EU directives and industry standards across our 19 factories in seven countries. We work to ISO9000 quality standard, ISO 14001 environmental standards and OSHAS 18001 health and safety standards.

Our factories are regularly audited by our customers and other bodies such as the British Retail Consortium. We take an important role in industry organisations including the AISE (European Detergents Industry Association), UK CTPA (Cosmetics, Toiletries and Perfume Association), the British Aerosol Manufacturers Association and is active legislative directives such as REACH (Registration, Evaluation and Authorisation of Chemicals) and the Global Harmonised System of classification and labelling of household products.

As the clear leader in our chosen product categories, we do not rely solely on third parties to govern our quality standards. We continuously improve our working practices and professionalism so that our quality can improve year on year. This applies to the quality of our people and our facilities as well as, of course, the quality of our products.
